AFWA Privacy Policy

The Accounting and Financial Women's Alliance ("AFWA") is committed to protecting the privacy of its members. Information about members of the Accounting and Financial Women's Alliance, including email addresses, telephone numbers and other information stored in the AFWA member database is solely the property of AFWA.

We may share your information with companies (including our affiliates) that perform services on our behalf. Our service providers are required by contract to protect the confidentiality of the information we share with them and to use it only to provide specific services on our behalf.

The extraction of large amounts of information from the AFWA database, sometimes referred as "data mining", is expressly prohibited. No one, member or non-member, may gain access to the "Member Directory" on AFWA website in order to "mine" member data.

Members of AFWA are allowed to search the member database through the "Member Directory" in the AFWA member portal for individual members, subject to the provisions and restrictions of this Privacy Policy.

Non-members of the AFWA are forbidden from utilizing the AFWA web site to search for member information.

Members of AFWA will receive communications by email, text messages and mail that are designed to keep them up-to-date on the profession and the benefits of membership in AFWA. These communications may include commercial content such as information about educational courses, affinity programs, and other membership-related benefits. Members may manage their subscriptions to these communications by opting out of any or all messages.

This website uses cookies to store information about visitors' preferences, to record user-specific information on which pages the site visitor accesses or visits, and to personalize or customize web page content based upon visitors' browser type or other information that the visitor sends via their browser.

Specifically, cookies on the AFWA site are used to enable enhanced features, such as the CPE registration, shopping cart, member login process, member profile and others. They also allow us to customize certain areas on the site based on each user's interests.

If you wish to disable cookies, you may do so through your individual browser options. More detailed information about cookie management with specific web browsers can be found at the browser's website.

Purposeful attempts to subvert this policy are strictly prohibited.
